

Student Name: Sakib Rokoni

ID: 24366051

Previous Student ID: 23273004

Course Code: CSE707

Task 6

Distributed consensus is essential in systems where independent nodes must agree on a shared state or decision, even in the presence of faults. It's important in decentralized systems such as blockchain or multi-node databases. Various algorithms like Paxos and Raft help achieve this by allowing systems to reach agreement despite failures. Achieving consensus ensures that all nodes operate with a consistent view of the system, even in the presence of faults.

Sakib Rokoni
Id: 24366051
CSE707
28.09.2024
Task-6